Lewis Brinson Library—A Busy Place on Campus

The Lewis Brinson Library on the Ben Hill-Irwin Campus of East Central Tech has proven to be a needed and treasured asset for the college. The library was dedicated to the school's first director, Lewis I. Brinson, on November 9, 2006. Since that time, the library has had tremendous growth and usage. Roger Smith, Director of Library Services at the college said, "We supply the library with materials that support what we teach. We assist students in our computer lab and support the needs of our faculty."

Interim President E.J. Harris added, "The library has proven itself to be a valuable resource for our college. It is essential for accreditation and we want our students to have all the tools they need for success." The library hours are 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. until noon on Friday.

The Lewis I. Brinson Library on the Ben Hill-Irwin Campus of East Central Technical College is located in Room 101 and functions as a technical library providing research assistance and resources to support the curriculum through books, e-books, journals, multi-media and electronic databases. The Library is equipped with 10 PCs and a copy machine. There is a scanner in the librarian's office.

PROGRESS

Progress is being made on the Coffee Campus Library. The shelves and furniture have been installed. The library is now waiting for the merger of the library automation systems of Valdosta Technical College and East Central Technical College before library materials can be added to the collection.
